A RAGGED HERO TONIGHT.

Everybody's favorite comedian, Geo. F. Hall, is announced for tonight at the Barre opera house in "A Ragged Hero," Maurice J. Fielding's thrillingly realistic comedy drama. The story of the play is founded on actual occurrences in the daily routine of life in a New England village. The central figure is an outcast whose life has been wrecked by a daughter's downfall. While he is the typical tramp and indulges in no end of antics and witticisms, the serious side of his story is never lost sight of by the dramatist. He has the faculty of bobbing up just at the right moment and his heroic deeds are an important factor in the development of the plot. He is not the comic paper type of "hobo," however, but an unfortunate fellow whose domestic troubles have driven him to drink first and then to the road. He is a genial character notwithstanding his many faults. Numerous opportunities are presented by the story for thrilling scenes and exciting climaxes, and they have been fully taken advantage of.

Barre Rangers Football Club.
A meeting will be held on Monday, April 3, at 6:30 sharp in Scamplin's store, Berlin street. Business: election of officers, correspondence to consider, tour of Caledonian F. C. of Holyoke and other important business. Let every member be present. Any one wishing to become a member may send in his name to Secretary Jas. F. Bennett.

NOTICE.

The painting contractors of Barre wish to notify the public that, owing to the recent Bill of Prices signed, they will ask for terms to be strictly cash when work is complete. The price to be charged is three dollars per day.

A Tonic for Old People

Adds Years to Life, Puts Life Into Years—Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food, the Great Blood and Flesh Maker, Brain and Nerve Tonic

Keeps you from growing old by keeping up your vital forces. When the human machinery begins to wear out, people grow old and go into decline and decay, the blood becomes thin and watery, the circulation poor, and the nerve forces shattered and weak, showing that certain essential elements of life are being exhausted from the blood and nerves. The exhaustion usually begins with cold and numb hands and feet. The stomach, bowels and bladder lose their power, finally becoming partially, if not wholly, paralyzed. You grow weak and feeble and your vital forces so low that you begin to see that your health is being undermined. Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food increases the action of the heart and the circulation of the blood, and builds up the system by replacing the same substances to the blood and nerves that have been worn out. Price 50 cents. Weigh yourself before taking it. Book free.

Sold and guaranteed by E. A. Drown.

One of Chelsea's Esteemed Citizens.

The following is a sketch of one of Chelsea's esteemed citizens, whose death as announced in Friday's paper occurred Thursday afternoon:
Charles Pearce Dickinson, landlord of Orange County Hotel during the last five years, died with pneumonia following an attack of influenza, Thursday afternoon, aged 58 years.

Mr. Dickinson was born in Williams-town in 1847, the eldest of four children, born to Benjamin F. and Lucy (Pease) Dickinson. He entered mercantile life, residing for several years in Chicago, Ill., and afterward in Boston, Mass. While living in the latter city he became a commercial traveler, but a few years after his wife's death he came to Chelsea to live, leaving in June, 1885, married Mary L. Clarke, the daughter of C. W. Clarke, Esq., by whom he had two sons, Frank Clarke Dickinson and Dan Pearce Dickinson, aged 15 and 16 respectively, who now survive. With Willard P. Townsend he bought the general store of John B. Bacon in 1886, becoming partner in the firm of Townsend & Dickinson, which continued until 1897, when Mr. Dickinson bought his partner's interest. This business he carried on for eight years, until August, 1894, when he sold to the present firm of Ordway, Holmes & Co. After a few months in the grain business he bought the local hotel of Elvin D. Barnes, and has proved one of the most popular landlords the hotel has had.

Besides his sons, above mentioned, he leaves a wife, Mrs. Mary (Goodrich) Dickinson, his former wife having died in January, 1893, and there also survive him of his father's family, Mrs. E. Oscar Tracy, a sister of Chelsea, and a younger brother, Edward E. Dickinson of St. Paul, Minn.
His attractive personal ways made him a popular candidate for any office he would accept and he served as town clerk from 1889 to 1893, inclusive, and afterward as selectman until March, 1900, having been first selectman since March, 1900, 1905. At his decease and for some years previous he was first constable of the town.

Frightful Suffering Relieved.

Suffering frightfully from the virulent poisons of undigested food, C. G. Grayson of Lula, Miss., took Dr. King's New Life Pills, "with the result," he writes, "that I was cured." All stomach and bowel disorders give way to their tonic, laxative properties. 25c at the Red Cross Pharmacy. Guaranteed.

Odd Ladies Granite City Lodge, M. U., regular meeting Tuesday evening, April 4, at 7 p. m., K. of G. hall. Refreshments. All those who promised fruit and cake please bring same.
